

Notes:

1. This list applies only to food items that are prepared by the producer in the residential kitchen. The purpose of this list is to help producers determine if the food item they wish to produce and sell is Cottage Food or whether a Home Food Processing Establishment License is required.
2. Sprout production, processing and distribution is regulated by DIA as a temperature control for safety food; this applies to seeds or beans used to grow sprouts that are harvested with their seed or root intact. If harvested above the root, it is an unregulated RAC.
3. Except for Sprouts, home-grown Raw Agricultural Commodities (RAC's) in their whole, uncut and natural state are neither a Cottage Food nor a Homemade Food Item because their production and distribution is unregulated.
4. Only foods that are shelf stable and do not require temperature control for safety may be sold under Iowa's Cottage Food Law.
5. Cottage Foods must be sold directly to the household consumer and cannot be wholesaled to another business or sold through another business.
6. Home Food Processing Establishments (HFPE) are home based food production operations that are licensed and inspected by the Iowa Department of Inspections and Appeals. NOTE: Some foods and food processing methods are prohibited under a Home Food Processing License.
